PA NEWC OBSERVES

Seven years ago today the second world war started, when Great Britain and France declared war on Germany.

One husky male who was seen walking on a downtown street early this morning coatless and with his shirt sleeves turned up, looked rather cool. Temperature on the thermometer stood at a little above 40 degrees.

Trees in the countryside have taken on a very pronounced fall appearance, seemingly quite prematurely for the time of year.

The present month will see the end of the daylight time saving schedule for the current year.

New Castle stores went on the winter hours schedule today, 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., except Monday, when the hours are 12:30 p. m. to 9 p. m., and Saturday, when the hours are 9:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Some scores of spectators at the Taylor street derby races Monday were courted disaster until the police took a hand and ordered them to get off the roof of the street department building along the route.

Motorists traveling west on Butler avenue, if they have the green light at the intersection of East Washington street and Butler avenue, are reaching the Public Square much more quickly these days by using the newly paved Taylor street route, which is a by pass for highway route No. 422.

With temperatures at the U. S. weather observing station at the water company's pumping station on the Shenango river, recorded at 38 degrees, it is likely that light frosts occurred in some of the outlying sections of the county this (Continued on Page Two)

Teachers Meet This Morning

Session Is Held Preparatory
To School Opening On Wednesday

Teachers, principals and supervisors of the New Castle public school system met in the senior high school this morning at 10 o'clock for the usual pre-term conference with Superintendent Frank L. Burton and later room meetings were held by the principals of the various schools.

Dr. Burton opened the meeting and asked Dr. Ivan Gruen to read the Scripture. Rabbi Gruen also made the address of the morning. In his address he expressed confidence that love of God and decency of the American people would hold back the forces of Communism and confusion in this country. He urged the teachers to take their responsibilities seriously, to remember that the America of tomorrow was in their hands today.

Dr. Burton outlined the opening of school Wednesday, September 4, and called upon Miss Grace McCabe to speak for the New Castle chapter of the Pennsylvania Education association.

Miss McCabe's address was good, her comments were timely and she predicted that the coming school term here would be the best one in many years.

Room meetings with principals are being held this afternoon.

SEOUL, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur informed American correspondents in Seoul today that he plans to visit Korea.

It is unnecessary to repeat the great friendship and concern I feel for the Korean nation and people and my complete confidence in the wisdom and ability with which General Hodge (American occupation commander) is handling a difficult task."

MacArthur did not say whether he planned to confine his visit to the American occupation zone in South Korea. Russian troops occupy North Korea and strict observance of the border between the two zones is maintained.

Greek King To Make Return To Athens, Sept. 14

Royalists In Athens Are Celebrating Victory In Plebiscite For King's Return

By A. ANGELOPOULOS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ATHENS, Sept. 3.—Republicans in Greece were warned by the government today to cease making statements derogatory to King George II, who was recalled to his throne Sunday by at least 72 per cent of the electorate.

Royalists in Athens are staging day-long demonstrations over their victory, and predict a celebration of mammoth scale when the king returns to Athens on Sept. 14.

Will Sail For Greece

(The London Daily Express said King George will sail for Greece on a Greek warship escorted by Anglo-American naval units.

(The Greek government was said to be ready to pay him 1,000 pounds sterling (approximately $4,500) weekly for his services.)

One of the first actions of the Athens government after the king's success in the voting was to restore acts of lese majesty. A government spokesman announced that from now on penalties for speaking against the monarchy will be applied strictly. He said:

"The existing tolerance is unsuitable after the people's verdict in the plebiscite."

Protest Plebiscite

Anti-royalist throughout the nation are protesting the conduct of the plebiscite on the grounds that King George's supporters resorted to terrorism and "adulteration of the voting."

Republicans argued that in large cities where alleged terrorism should not affect the popular will, referendum results were "adulterated" through wide use of "special voting certificates."

Latest official returns show that of 1,394,677 ballots counted, 1,019,901 favor the monarchy. The same figures showed that Athens and the nearby port of Piraeus voted 55 per cent in favor of the king's return and 45 per cent against.

Francis served as the chairman of the afternoon session of the Gymnast.

The Gymnast Ganu is a national affair, held annually, although since 1942, due to the war, none had been held. Akron had prepared well for the musical festival and the plans were carried out with precision.

Visitors from the east coast and as far west as Salt Lake City and San Francisco and as far south as Florida were present. The musical director was William Albert Hughes, of Cleveland, and his work was of a superior nature.

Expect Democrats To Nominate Mead To Oppose Dewey

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(INS)—The Democratic state convention, opening today, showed every indication that it will nominate U. S. Sen. James M. Mead for governor to oppose Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential possibility, in the November election.

Large Crowd At Park Labor Day

Municipal Recreation Center Closes For Season Except For Some Exceptions

Excepting for a coming industrial and fraternal outing, Cascade Park closed Labor Day, according to Manager C. C. Coulthard, who reported today that the park held one of the biggest crowds of the season Labor Day and night. He said the crowd contained many persons from out-of-the-state because many of the cars had foreign license plates.

He said there were no accidents and the park had a good season. American Can Company will picnic there Wednesday and the Loyal Order of Moose, next Sunday.

The Merry-Go-Round and Dodge'em will remain open for those two outings.

There will be dancing on various nights until weather forces a conclusion, it was stated.

Facilities for corn roasts and reunions will be free and available through September 15, the manager stated.

Henry Home Children Are Excited About Opening Of School

No, it's not a circus or a picnic they're getting ready for; the youngsters at the Margaret Henry Children's home are polishing up their shoes and laying out their best clothes for the first day of school tomorrow.

Among the 41 children are five first graders, starting to school for the first time, and they are as proud of their vaccinations as they would be of battle scars. Only one of the residents is a high school student.

Contrary to the usual idea of the opening of school, these boys and girls are looking forward to tomorrow as happily as they looked forward to the first day of vacation. The group has grown during the summer, with 12 being added to the Henry Home family since July.

Finishing up the summer activities, the Home enjoyed a corn roast through the kindness of Dorris Fulkman, who donated a small truckload of corn every bit of which was eaten up.

Mrs. Julius Cobb also entertained the children at a corn and wiener roast in honor of her anniversary last week, adopting the youngsters for the day in place of her son who is in Korea.

took him to New England for a brief stay and then southward across the gulf stream to the sunny vacation islands of the Bermudas.

First Real Rest

The president went for a rest and he got a real one—the first since he entered the White House April 12, 1945, on the death of the late President Roosevelt.

Chatting informally with correspondents who accompanied him on the cruise, as he stepped ashore at the gun factory from the Williamsburg, the president said:

"I had a most delightful trip. I am returning to my desk rested and refreshed."

Then he added:

"We may do it again."

Last night the president worked on state papers that required his attention. He was alone in the White House as Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret are still at the president's home in Independence, Mo.

Mr. Truman left Washington Aug. 16 for a cruise which had been planned to take him northward into New England waters. He went as far as Quonset, R. I., in Narragansett bay, there a northeast storm struck and brought with it heavy rains and chilly weather.

"The president also was determined on his vacation to get a complete rest—and that meant to get away from people and the constant pressures which a president undergoes virtually everywhere he moves."

He found it difficult, however, to achieve this goal.

Total Loss

According to Everett C. Grafinger, president of the Brown company, about $3,500 worth of hay and straw which is a total loss, and is being hauled to the city dump today.

What was not damaged by fire and smoke was damaged by the heavy content of water which it was necessary to pour onto the fire in order to extinguish it. The cause of fire was not determined.

For a time it looked as though the entire contents would burn, as firemen were handicapped in getting at the fire by the dense smoke which arose from the burning hay and straw.

Steel is on the ground and construction will start this week on a new building to be occupied by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company on South Mill street near the intersection of Grove street.

Some months ago the A&P building on South Meyer street burned down and temporary quarters have been used on Neshannock avenue.

After a search for a site the company decided upon the one on South Mill street and architects were instructed to draw the plans. It will be a modern market building, capable of caring for the demands of the company in the future.

The estimated cost is said to be $175,000.

HONOLULU, Sept. 3.—(INS)—The strike of approximately 30,000 Hawaiian sugar plantation workers went into its third day today.

Plantation owners and labor leaders agreed that the strike was "100 per cent effective". The strikers seek higher wages, a 40-hour work week and a union shop.

There were no disturbances reported after the walkout was staged, and the union was maintaining its own patrols to aid territorial police in keeping order.

Women As Voters

Basins its conclusion on statistics, the Census Bureau hazards the opinion that "women seem destined to be increasingly influential in elections." And it must be admitted that this forecast seems to be well founded.

Right now, judging from the bureau's figures, women are in a position to run the country if they should be so minded. As of July 1 there were 46,403,210 women 21 years old or over and only 45,231,262 men in the same age grouping. If party lines were drawn according to sex, and if all citizens of 21 could vote and did vote in a national election on the issue of men versus women, the ladies would win by a margin of 1,171,948.

The bureau also points out that the difference between the number of women and the number of men who have attained their majority has been growing. Two years ago there were 730,810 more women of voting age than men and in 1940 the disparity was as small as 73,693. The way things are going, it would seem, the men may be outnumbered to the extent of 1,500,000 by 1948.

But the women of the nation long ago decided that they would not vote as a bloc and there is no likelihood that they will reconsider even though they are now in the majority. They will, it can be confidently predicted, continue to divide their political allegiance among the parties as they have done in the past.

This is not to say that the Census Bureau is wrong. Women must be reckoned with in party councils and obviously that will be more and more the case as time goes on. But their influence will be more indirect than direct, more subtle than obvious, as it has ever been in other fields.

Mechanical Solution

Machinery gradually is solving the "back-to-the-farm" movement that has agitated the country for a generation or more. Americans have realized that to prosper its rich acres must be kept under cultivation and the livestock and poultry industries must continue to expand.

When urban population began to shoot up and the abandonment of farm residences grew apace, alarm was felt. The problem was so acute that a song was written about it and millions of words have been spoken and printed about the necessity of repopulating rural districts. But the movement to the cities reached astronomical proportions during the recent war.

Machinery has been responsible, to a great extent, for this migration. Power farming made it unnecessary to live on a farm to grow wheat or row crops. The tractor replaced the horse and mule and electricity made chores easier. The machine even replaced the milk stool.

Today, in several areas, a new machine has entered the picture. It is a broom-corn topper, a mechanical device that can replace a score of hand toppers. A corn husker, although introduced only a few years ago, is already in wide use. In Pennsylvania, a farmer has perfected a potato picker that does the work of a score of men. Production is to be started soon.

The "back-to-the-farm" problem is being solved mechanically. The wide open spaces, it seems, will be wider and more open than ever in the future.

Where History Began

United States warships which, in the last few months have been steaming singly eastward from Gibraltar on "courtesy calls," are prolonging their visits. As a matter of fact, they have assumed the proportions of a United States Mediterranean fleet. The London Observer says editorially: "For the first time in 250 years, the active assertion of sea power in the Mediterranean rests with a country other than Britain."

Last April, when the Turks were facing encirclement on the east through Russian penetration of Azerbaijan, they were cheered by the ostentatious visit to Istanbul of the U. S. S. Missouri, mighty battleship of the Tokyo Bay surrender. United States cruisers in the Adriatic have been the main factor through recent weeks to deter Tito's Yugoslavs from seizing Trieste by a coup de main. Other units put in at Piraeus, historic port of Athens, for a good will call remarkably timed with the Greek plebiscite.

Arabs who dwell amid the olive groves and ancient ruins of what once was a nation called Carthage might have looked seaward to behold the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, perhaps the most powerful sea potential extant, steaming toward Malta. In London Admiral Marc Mitscher says the United States will maintain an enlarged fleet in the Mediterranean for "some time to come." In Washington Admiral William P. Halsey says that deployment of the U. S. Navy is "nobody's business" and that "we will go anywhere we please on the high seas."

It is no secret at all that this power is on display to reinforce State department notes to Russia on the issue of freedom of waterways, particularly the Dardanelles. Napoleon once wrote of the Dardanelles, "He who controls the straits can rule the world."

No Other Choice

Few Americans except those who follow the communist party line will quarrel with the statement Secretary of War Patterson made in opening a series of lectures on atomic energy for key Army personnel. Grim as it may sound, it was realistic.

Mr. Patterson spoke of the necessity of making plans for the employment of atomic weapons. He was aware, he said, that strong efforts are being made to bring about international control of atomic energy and he hoped they would succeed. But he declared that those responsible for this nation's defense must act "on the basis that there is and there will be no adequate control" on the international level—until Congress directs otherwise.

This is a simple statement of fact. The nation's military leaders have no other choice if they are faithful to their trust. They must look at the problem as it is. They must be prepared to make the most effective use of this terrible new scourge if the security of the nation is endangered. To do anything else would be to invite its use against the American people whenever it becomes available to potential enemies.

Nevertheless, it is to be hoped that the public will not be kept completely in the dark concerning the implications involved in this course. If citizens are to understand the meaning of atomic warfare they must be kept informed, as far as possible, as to what these plans are and what they entail.

With the cost of living mounting, it is increasingly hard for the Joneses to set a mark to shoot at.

Hillier learned that a horse which runs fast doesn't run long, but Stalin is now trying to prove that it ain't so.

Maybe things would go along more smoothly at Washington, D. C., if there were more humility and less humility.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Youth Of War Goes Back To Routines

DENNIS, Mass., Sept. 3.—One of the fears cherished by the pacifists of an earlier and more naive day was that war would breed in the young a love of the military, a fixed passion for all that is martial.

The war which ended a year ago proved once again that the military system goes against something fundamental in the American tradition.

Our young can take it when the curse of war compels. But when that curse is lifted, they come back to the manifold pursuits of civilian life with a great yelp of relief. That is what they're doing here on the long sweep of Cape Cod, with its endless bays and harbors, inlets, lakes and ponds.

One of the pursuits is the theater, and especially the summer theater, which gives the young a chance that the fierce commercialism of Broadway too often denies them. Here in Dennis the Cape Playhouse, one of the most famous of those that now woo the summer tourist wherever a tourist is to be found, enlists a dozen apprentices, most of them very young.

The apprentices put on a special performance of their own here the other day. The play they chose was "Out of the Frying Pan," which deals with the theme of stage-struck youth. While the performance had much of the pace and smoothness of Broadway, it also had a vitality and a good humor that are ordinarily not a part of the merchandise offered for sale in the New York theater.

Doing What They Wanted to Do

These young people were doing what they wanted to do, and therefore they put into it that extra measure which makes the difference between the passable and the exceptional. Young Americans put that same extra measure into a game of tennis, or sailing a boat, or into a fast crawl stroke.

One of the things we take for granted in this country is that enormous extension of every kind of playtime activity. It applies not merely to those in the upper-income brackets who can travel and seek out the more expensive play spots. In the years just before the war, the summer camp idea—free for those who can pay nothing and at a very low cost for those who can afford to pay a little—had spread very far.

It contributed greatly toward spreading the outdoor skills. The summer camp is a corollary of the playgrounds that dot every American city. The sports common today to most of our young Americans were the exception 30 years ago.

There is a type of mind which pretends to see something alarming in what is spoken of scornfully as America's preoccupation with games. By implication, at least, the European model is held up and our youths are lectured for failing to pay more heed to the course of world affairs.

Want to Earn a Living

It seems to me a healthy sign that the younger generation can, in spite of all that has happened, return to the familiar ways. This does not mean that they have turned their backs on what is going on in the plague spots of the earth. My impression is that they are all too keenly aware of the boyish their elders are making of the peace.

That may be why they speak scornfully of still another war. They see so little sense, so little reason, in the deliberations of the statesmen that they can hardly be blamed for this fatalism.

What they ask is so little, and that is true particularly of those who have come back from the very worst of the hell that was let loose on the world for six years. They want to be able to earn a living, to bring up a family in decency, to have a little pleasure, a vacation now and then.

If our system fails to meet these reasonable demands, then we shall be in trouble. If the way of life they believe in seems to be threatened from outside, then once again the response will be what it was in 1941.

That was one of the cardinal mistakes Hitler made. He believed the youth of the democracies were soft, effete, they would not fight. The western concept of sport, for the sake of sport, skill for the sake of skill, is simply incomprehensible to the Nazi mind. Strength and skill must be for some purpose.

The strength and skill of America can be summoned up again as it was in 1941. But for this little while at least, the younger generation is playing and playing hard, or just relaxing after the years of turmoil and uncertainty.

Correction

Inadvertently, in a recent column, the Foreman's Association of America in the Parkard Motor Car case was mistakenly called the "Foreman's League for Education and Association." The latter is an entirely different organization and is opposed to the objectives that the Foreman's Association of America stand for. The Foreman's League believes that foremen should not be connected with workers under their supervision in collective bargaining.

Words Of Wisdom

A true man never frets about his place in the world, but just slides into it by gravitation of his nature, and swings there as easily as a star.

Spread cottage cheese, well drained, on slices of buttered nut or brown bread. Sprinkle generously with small salted peanuts, cover with second buttered slice of bread. You can use raisins instead of peanuts if you prefer.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You have read a lot about the peace conference in Paris and about the United Nations sessions in New York and about all the communities around New York that are fighting to keep the UN out of their territory. You must be pretty well fed up on all this peace stuff.

I'll give you another piece of peace news. The Supreme Court of New Jersey has just ruled that a woman has a perfect right to use obscene language in a store, because a store is not a public place and the law applies only when "the public peace is endangered."

It seems that the woman and the store proprietor, a neighbor of hers, had a long-standing feud.

According to the record, he drove his car into the driveway between his store and her home.

To show her disrespect, she showered him with a bucket of water. He grabbed the bucket and she charged him with assault and battery. Complaint dismissed.

Next, the woman discovered ink splashed on her laundry hanging in the back yard.

She rushed into the store, asked for the "----" proprietor, he had her arrested for using profane language; she was fined $25 in the lower court and appealed the case.

And the State Supreme Court decided in her favor as related above.

So now the case stands just about where the Paris peace conference stands, or the UN in New York.

Everybody thinks he is right and everybody suspects everybody else. In the meantime there is sharp language and mud-slinging and there will be appeals to higher courts and there may be peace in the end.

Peace with suspicion and ill will and one of these days another war, just as in all probability, the New Jersey woman and her neighbor will wind up in the courts again.

From Me To You

The last big holiday of the summer season is over... my, didn't the summer go quickly... and tomorrow will be the first day of school. All eyes now turn forward... to Thanksgiving vacation time. It's just one vacation time to another for the children.

Orchids to the Optimist Club of New Castle... Monday, Labor Day was their day here in New Castle... The Orange Crate Derby... and what a wonderful crowd did turn out... We hear talk that estimates the spectators from between 10 and 15 thousand... That my friends is a lot of people. The racers themselves were very fine sportsmen... and from other reports we hear that entire event was mighty fine... with but one exception. The crowd at times were very difficult to handle... it seems that our local police force didn't expect such a group and thus were not in great enough numbers to swing the job the way it should have been.

Next year the street of the race track will be roped... and sufficient men with authority will be on hand to keep the eager beavers back. It is a very sad thing that a few were hurt... and to those who suffered serious injury we extend sympathy.

Looking at the race of yesterday from a civic standpoint... we would say that it rates very high. We all should get together more often... keeping the orange crate derby as a climax for a summer of fun. Optimist of N. C. you have carved a niche in the hall of fame and good sportsmanship in your fair community.

Several very fine letters arrived today... commenting on the things that should be done at Cascade Park... we find that the score is just about even so far concerning the idea of amusement mechanicals in the park. Some say another park should be established for amusements only... and an equal number in letters state they think that the beauty of the park can be kept when rides are installed. More letters of course will either keep this score or change it one way or another.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PROPER SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

Every parent wishes the child entering school to get on well at learning. Favorable to this end is proper equipment.

In many schools, books and most other basic equipment are furnished free out of public revenue. Even so, certain tools may need to be added by the home. Anyway, most school districts which provide free text books at all, do so only for the elementary grades.

Though books and other supplies are usually made available "without profit" for the child of junior and senior high school, there is the problem of making sure this equipment is procured on the first or second day of school. It is amazing how many students will not have secured nearly all the books needed, at the end of the first several days or weeks.

Wise Parents

Wise parents plan ahead. If at all possible, the necessary funds they also check in order to make sure the child purchase the materials promptly. Teachers, also, should check on these matters and keep in touch with the home when necessary.

Moreover, the home should provide the child with such equipment as he will need for his home study, as soon as home assignments are made at school.

Where the school permits pupils to take home books and other materials supplied by the school, parents may need to check to be sure the child always brings home such equipment when he should.

In many instances, it is good investment by parents to secure for the child a duplicate set of books and the like which are used at school. Even in the upper elementary grades, possession of such duplicate materials in the home may be desirable, especially when the school won't permit the child to take home his books.

Provide Good Dictionary

Many parents could well afford to provide the child at home with a good school dictionary, even with a standard, large-sized dictionary, to be used by the whole family; also, with some good reference books, such as one of the standard sets of children's magazines for the younger children, and several good adult magazines for the students in junior and senior high school.

In selecting for purchase home equipment for the school child, most parents could get good advice from the school principal.

While a few parents cannot afford to buy many materials for the child, most parents can easily afford to cut down on their expenditures for far less importance. How well the average child is equipped at home with tools for learning is chiefly a matter of what value his parents place on his education.

CIO Works Squeeze Play In Wage-Price Situation
See Price Control Back On Milk, Butter, Cheese
Famine Dinner Is Staged At Nation's Capital

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The CIO has worked another squeeze play against the government in the game of wages and prices.

Regardless of the decision of the board's decision, the union has served notice that wages must be geared to prices.

CIO President Philip Murray and his aides collaborated in the move that put the government in the vise.

First, Murray told the decontrol board that prices should be rolled back to June 30 levels and all food subsidies should be restored in full.

Then, the white-haired labor chief asked President Truman to call a labor-management conference to study wages and prices.

After that, the executive board of CIO's United Automobile Workers stopped the federals in their tracks. It served notice that its contract with the Chrysler corporation may be reopened on 60 days notice in the event that prices are not held and wages lose their purchasing power.

If the union were successful in its renegotiation, the floodgates would be open, and the race between wages and prices would really get under way.

There is probably a 50-50 chance that price controls will be restored on milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and other dairy products despite the action of the price decontrol board in keeping them free at this time.

Milk supplies are expected to take more than a normal seasonal drop in the next few months. This will mean greater scarcity and upward price pressure.

Price Administrator Porter is keenly disappointed over the failure of the decontrol board to return the board's control.

He disagrees with the contention that prices of these products have not risen "unreasonably" since controls lapsed June 30.

Porter and his aides intend to watch supply and prices closely and appeal to the board to approve reconrol if prices move higher.

They will have a ready audience with the board for it has made clear its intention to order controls reimposed if prices go above price levels.

Painters with their ladders and brushes are ready to brighten up the United States Capitol.

But they've just thwarted as Mr. American Homeowner. Like him, they can't get paint.

Capitol Architect David Lynn wanted to do an extensive cleanup while Congress is away for its longest vacation since the war started. He wanted to put new roofs on House and Senate chambers. He said:

"But we can't get paint. We've postponed the roofs, and we'll have to let two-thirds of the painting go undone."

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE "KING JAMES" BIBLE

Again, the Holy Bible tops the list as the world's best-selling book, with sales for 1945 totaling 12,242,000 copies. Bible fiction comes and goes; biography has its fleeting day; mystery takes its quota. But the Book of Books has distanced them all together.

A natural question in view of the huge number of Bibles sold, is how many buyers actually read the Book? How many read it in search of truth, confirmation, inspiration or consolation? How many for information and the sake of argument? How many because of its unparalleled literary quantities?

One of our great failures in education in recent years has been the ignorance of school and college students of the Bible. Like Shakespeare, the Bible has been a primary source of English and a prolific source of phrases in our every-day speech. Thousands—perhaps millions—use biblical terms and allusions almost daily without the faintest knowledge of their origin.

August Was Very Dry, Cool Month

August proved a most abnormal month, according to the statistics compiled by Baxter F. Johnson, U. S. weather observer. The temperature was 4.5 degrees per day below normal, and the precipitation was 2.02 inches below normal. As a matter of fact, there have been but two soaking rains during the whole summer, July being an unusually dry month also, and gardens in the local area have suffered considerably.

The mean maximum temperature was 79 degrees; the mean minimum 63, and the mean or average, 66. The highest temperature was 89 degrees on the 4th and 15th of the month, and the lowest was 31 degrees on the 31st.

Navy Developing New War Weapons

Veterans Of Foreign Wars At Annual Encampment Hear Of New Defense Weapons

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Disclosure that the American navy is developing "unforeseen weapons of attack and defense" was made today at the 47th national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars by Gen. Pedro Del Valle of the U. S. Marine Corps.

The American war veterans, among them survivors of four wars, were advised that "if we really love peace we must be prepared to defend it."

Gen. Del Valle continued: "Until there is established an effective police agency for the world, if there ever is, we must have arms to defend ourselves against the depredations of those who will not abide by world law."

"The fearful weapons of the future must not cloud the issue. They are becoming a reality, and I know that our navy experts can and are developing unforeseen weapons of attack and defense with the same skill they used to rebuild the great and most powerful navy of the world from the disaster of Pearl Harbor."

"Nevertheless, these weapons are in the future. Our present protection must consist of trained and ready military forces."

The biggest welcome of all in this first post-war encampment of veterans who saw action on foreign soil was reserved for Gen. Dwight D. "Ike" Eisenhower, chief of staff of the U. S. army, who was greeted on his arrival by many who once called him "the boss."

COX-MINICK WEDDING IN FIRST U. P. CHURCH

First U. P. church Glenmore boulevard, was the chosen scene for one of the prettiest weddings of the season solemnized on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Dawna Jean Cox, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Cox, Maitland Lane, Waldo, became the bride of James Elmer Minick, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Minick, Highland Heights.

The altar setting was enhanced with a bower of cithibium ferns cascading across the chancel, shading from a light green center into a mass of darker moss green at either end outlining standards of all white flowers and cathedral candles in branching candelabrum.

Three weeks ago, the principals stood as attendants for the bride's brother and new sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Cox, Jr., nee June Warnock, just back from their honeymoon.

In the presence of several hundred guests, vows were exchanged. The Rev. Calvin Rose, pastor of Second U. P. church, officiated in the absence of Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor.

The impressive double ring service was used, as William Hilkey of Westminster college, local resident, offered softly, strains of "O' Promise Me." She played a prelude nuptial program preceding the ceremony, and accompanied as guest soloist, Jeanne Myers of Sharon, also of Westminster college.

She sang beautifully "The Lord's Prayer" and other favorite selections of the bride.

Colorful was the occasion, yet a note of quaintness was evidenced in the crinolines gowns worn by the bride and bridesmaids, and the white tulle, which ended in a slight train.

The fitted bodice was accentuated with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her fingertip illusion veil, edged with a deep inset of Duchess lace, was held in place by a tiara embellished with tiny seed pearls and crystals.

She carried a shower bouquet of Gladiolus and her only jewelry was a matched strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She proceeded down the all white aisle on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride's only sister, Joanne Cox, was maid of honor. She appeared in a sapphire green net-over-tulle floor length gown, made with full skirt and mounded bodice. Her bouquet was of contrasting gladiolus, and flowers of the same adorned her hair.

Dr. Russell Minick of Pittsburgh, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Bridesmaids included Susanne Virtue and Mrs. Gilbert A. Cox, Jr., of this city, Mrs. Russell Minick of Pittsburgh and Jane Bailey of Youngstown, Ohio. They were attired in toe length crinolines gowns in pastel tones of blue, pink, mil-lin, southern peach and ice-blue, respectively. Each carried harmonizing bouquets tied with large harmonizing satin bows streamers extending almost to the hemline.

Ushers guests to their seats and the bride couple's family pews designated with white satin ribbons and bows were Charles Bob, Jack Campbell, David Minick, Gilbert Cox, Jr., all of New Castle.

After the congratulatory period in the rear of the church, a garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents for over 200 guests. Pink and white tones predominated in the appointments, the oblong bridal table being centered with the traditional tiered cake. A series of card tables placed about the lawn, and decorated in the same motif seated the remaining guests.

In an upstairs room an array of beautiful wedding and shower gifts received by the couple, were displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Minick later departed on an extended southern motor trip.

Both the bride and groom attend Westminster College. He, a premed student attended Penn State prior to entering the U. S. service, where he served overseas. Recently honorably discharged as a sergeant, he has resumed his studies at Westminster, where he is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

VFW Picnic Has Crowd Of 1,500

Afternoon, Evening Schedules Enjoyed By Members, Families At Park Saturday

Fine weather and a good show attracted a crowd of over 1,500 persons to the VFW picnic in the grove at Cascade park Saturday evening.

A large group was present in the afternoon for the races, contests and baseball game, and a still larger crowd was present for the dinner. But the evening program of three boxing bouts, a show and dancing in the pavilion brought out the largest number of people that the park has seen at one picnic for a long time.

Al Francis was the M. C. of the show and brought down the house in an act with Harry Ross, local comedian. Other acts included singers, an acrobatic dancer, a magician and numbers by a ten-piece band.

The boxing bouts were arranged by Tommy Leach, with Charlie James as referee, George Hunt as time keeper and Joe Walzer and Master Sgt. Steffan as judges.

During the evening, youngsters attending the picnic were given rides on the concessions at the park, and later in the evening the young people jammed the dancing pavilion.

Those on the committee were: Frank T. Sargent, George Christoph, Harry O. Falls, Joseph Walzer, Albert Stook, Walter Kieker, Charles James, Albert Pilshaw, Norman Minner, William Kazanski, J. Roy Jones, Stanley Walczak and Joe Lane.

Their arrest followed when a 23-year-old mother of one was taken to the hospital after peritonitis developed.

Police records showed that Mrs. Sullivan was arrested on a similar charge in 1940.

Hundreds of young people were in attendance Labor Day, at the rally of the Western Pennsylvania District Young Peoples Societies of the greater Pittsburgh area, sponsored by the Young Peoples Society of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, and held in the Second U. P. church, Milton at County Line streets.

The young people began gathering early in the morning for the first service which began at 10:30 o'clock, with Joseph Proctor of the Peoples Mission church in charge of the song service. Following the congregational singing and special music, Rev. E. Delois Pinney, former resident of this city, but now of Beaver Falls, delivered the morning address.

After the noon recess, the afternoon song service opened at 1:30 o'clock, when several special vocal selections were presented by members of the visiting young peoples societies. A business meeting took place in the early part of the afternoon session, with an election of officers ensuing.

Missionary To China
Rev. H. Sechrist, missionary to French Indo China was introduced as the missionary speaker of the day, giving his audience an insight into his and his family's internment in the Santo Tomas prison camp in Manila and of the miraculous deliverance of the missionaries and others from the hand of the enemy by the United States Army. One of the young men who were in the group that effected the rescue was in the afternoon audience having received his discharge from the Army.

Rev. James Harper of Erie, Pa., evangelist, gave a direct challenge to the youth who were gathered in the church, to obey God, citing several instances of young people who did not obey the Divine voice.

The early part of the evening service was given over to another inspirational song service, led by Mr. Proctor, with Miss Charlotte Staller, of Pittsburgh, at the piano, and Edward Jenkins of this city, at the organ.

Another missionary address was delivered by Rev. Sechrist, followed by the final sermon of the day, given by Rev. Harper. Both presented appeals to the youth to dedicate their lives for full time service for God.

It was announced that the Young Peoples Society of the North Side Pittsburgh, Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, were successful in their bid for the New Year's Day Rally.

Enrollment At Westminster To Reach 1,400

Enrollment of students for the emergency program at Westminster will close on September 10, J. I. Reaney, director of the program, announced today. This is necessary because of the large number of students taking advantage of the plan to get started on their college education, and because of the fact that college authorities must complete their enrollment procedures and develop their schedule of classes for the opening of the fall term. Any students still expecting to enroll will find it necessary to take immediate steps to that end.

Several weeks ago Westminster announced that, in order to comply with Governor Martin's wish that all young men and women in Pennsylvania who desired a chance at a college education might have an opportunity to try for entrance into our colleges, she would open her facilities for afternoon students providing they could commute from their homes.

Westminster had already enrolled more than a thousand students for morning classes and had refused entrance to many hundreds more, but the decision was made to arrange additional afternoon and evening classes. Now the end of enrollment for these classes is drawing near.

The college will open the fall term on October 2 with approximately fourteen hundred students, nearly double her normal capacity.

Shortages Affect Power Company Extension Work

The critical shortage of material necessary for the construction of lines is causing serious delays in the extension program of Pennsylvania Power Company, according to officials of the company.

The demand for service extensions is almost unparalleled, and this combined with the short supply of materials required for construction has caused delay in serving many new homes and farms that desire service. While 90% of the farms in the company's service area are already served, new homes and the rehabilitation of houses in rural areas due to the housing shortage has brought about the increased demand for extensions.

The company's engineering and construction forces are doing their utmost to cope with this situation.

Garden Notes

Day-lilies should be planted now. Old clumps should be divided and reset. If you can obtain some, plant the new hybrids which offer new colors.

Herbaceous borders can be re-made at this time if plenty of water is available. Dig deeply and enrich the soil before resetting the plants. Shade the plants and protect them from high winds for a few days after replanting them.

This is peony-planting season. Set out new roots two or three inches deep. Old clumps of peonies should be left undisturbed in the garden unless it is necessary to move them.

Clean all dead foliage from around peonies and delphiniums. Any diseased tops from these or other herbaceous plants should be destroyed by burning.

Fall plowing of the vegetable garden will turn up many hibernating insects which will then freeze during the winter.

Sales Increase In New Castle Shown

State College Survey Shows Twelve
Per Cent Increase In July
Over June

STATE COLLEGE, Sept. 3.—General business in leading areas of Pennsylvania jumped seven per cent from June to July, the monthly business survey of the Pennsylvania State college revealed today. It was the best for any month since March, 1945.

New records for the month were made by bank deposits, life insurance sales, postal receipts, bituminous coal, and telephones. Anthracite coal production was the best since 1943 and building operations were the highest in any recent year. Motor vehicle sales were the highest for the month since 1941. Average hourly earnings continued to rise in July and stood at $11.14.

Far Ahead of 1945

Although department store sales showed slight decline from June, sales in July continued to run far ahead of 1945. It was a new high for July, 27 per cent above those for the same month a year ago. Stocks continued to be high with better merchandise coming back. Manufacturers' inventories have been restored to the levels of a year ago, and retailers are watching their goods more carefully for items which do not promise to sell well, the survey indicated.

Per cent of increase for July over the month of June in the leading industrial areas were: Allentown, 6; Altoona, 7; Easton, 3; Harrisburg, 8; Johnstown, 12; Lancaster, 4; New Castle, 12; Oil City, 2; Philadelphia, 6; Chester, 8; Pittsburgh, 7; Sharon, 1; Scranton, 12; Wilkes-Barre, 9; and Williamsport, 5. Losses reported were: Bethlehem, 1; Erie, 5; Reading, 2; and York, 1.

SKIRTS MUST STAY SHORT, CPA RULES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Milady may as well face it.

The Civilian Production administration isn't changing its style restrictions to allow the women's clothing industry to make longer skirts, longer jackets or fuller sleeves than now permitted.

CPA said fashions embodying such changes are a "deliberate creation of consumer demand for garments which may not be legally sold under the CPA style order."

Officials said retailers may return long-hemline garments to manufacturers, who must alter them to conform with government restrictions before re-selling them.

Air Races Near All Army Show

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—(INS)—The first postwar running of the national air races of Cleveland went down in history today as an all-Army air force show, as the climax on Labor Day to the four-day sky classic.

Alvin E. (Tex) Johnston, a tall rangy Texan who now lives in Niagara Falls, N. Y., won the 300-mile Thompson trophy and some $18,000 by setting a new Thompson record of 373 miles an hour for the course.

Johnston, in winning the first Thompson contest since 1939, collected $16,000 in first prize money, an additional $2,000 award for posting a new record nearly 100 miles faster than the old mark of 282 miles an hour.

Johnston was one of 12 pilots who took off in the event which was staged before a holiday throng of more than 100,000 persons.

All of these pilots, the best civilian race pilots in the nation, were flying converted war planes and, even from this aspect, it was still an Army show because the fliers were piloting old military planes.

Johnston, in setting the new Thompson record, flew an outdated Bell P-39 Aircobra. The other planes entered in the race were the Army's war-time versions of the P-51 Mustang, the P-38 Lockheed fighter, the P-63 King Cobra, and the Navy's gull-winged Corsair.

Anthony (Tony) Levier, chief test pilot for Lockheed Aviation at Burbank, Calif., placed second in the Thompson Trophy race in his bright red Lockheed Lightning Earl Ortman of Tulsa, Okla., a comparative old-timer at the air races, finished third.

Aetna-Standard Gets Big Contract

Ellwood City Plant Starts Manufacture Of Huge Order For Navy

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 3.—Aetna-Standard Engineering Co. has booked an order for 3,277 steel air-tight "protective structures" for "cannanning expensive and delicate big guns aboard the U. S. Navy's moth ball fleet." President Ernest E. Swartsweiter announced Saturday.

The order, said to involve nearly $1,000,000, is part of more than $1,500,000 worth of military business which the Aetna-Standard now has on its books. Aetna-Standard is one of the few thousands of "war plants" which will stay in war work, however, the major part of its business is civilian work.

The company just began making the "cans" at its Ellwood City plant last week. Earlier, it had finished some for tests. It will boost output to more than 1,000 monthly. Some other big orders are expected to result from it, making a big market for Youngstown district steel. About 2,500 tons of steel sheets from both Pittsburgh and Youngstown steel mills are needed to fill this order.

Keep Out Salt Air

The "protective structures" are being made as part of the navy's program of preserving some of its surplus ships and guns and other equipment left over from World War II as "insurance" against World War III. The structures are designed to keep out salt air which might corrode the delicate and expensive mechanism of the guns and other equipment, making them useless.

The navy had first tried encasing the guns in coatings of plastics, but that didn't work so well. Rats, mice and some beetles like the plastics, eating them like candy, and that's for more than 10 years which corroded the equipment. Poison was put inside the coatings—but the poison didn't kill the pests until they ruined the plastic coatings.

So the navy turned to steel—and Aetna-Standard's order is the result.

DENIS CHARGES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 3.—(INS)—Elvie Gress, pretty 21-year-old mountain girl from near Farmington, today branded as preposterous charges that she had intimate dates with Russell Bradstock, Uniontown electrician, who is seeking a divorce from his wife, Alverda.

Mrs. Bradstock, in an answer to Bradstock's divorce petition, accused Miss Gress of being intimate with her husband on several occasions.

Woman Yawns And Dislocates Jaw

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Robert Bean, director of Brookfield zoo, has seen odd things happen. But today he had one accident he could blame on the baboons.

A woman yawned at the zoo and dislocated her jaw. She was taken to a hospital in suburban Berwyn for first aid.

Bean tried to figure how it happened and someone suggested the woman might have been watching the baboons, who are always yawning. Bean asserted:

"That's it. She must have been watching them and it was contagious. That would explain it. Besides, it never happened before."

B. & O. Asks Bids For 2000 More Cars

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 3.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad requested bids today on 2,000 steel hopper cars intended primarily for the handling of coal. This is in addition to an order for the same number of hoppers that was placed in June, and on which deliveries will begin during the last quarter of this year. The B. & O. also has on order 2,400 box cars so that when deliveries are completed on all this equipment it will give the railroad an increased ownership of 6,400 cars for its freight service.

Report Confession In Woman Slaying

INDIANA, Pa., Sept. 3.—(INS)—Indiana County District Attorney Edwin N. Clark today said that 26-year-old Pete Prenni, a strip mine worker of Indiana, had signed a confession in which he admitted the fatal clubbing of an aged woman in a "ghost" mining town.

Clark said that Prenni admitted using a three foot club to beat Mrs. Mary Vranko, 72 to death. Her body was found lying on the front porch of her home at Foster's mine, an abandoned mining town in Indiana county.

Death was caused by several fractures of the skull and a crushed face.

Embezzlement Nets

New Evidence On

Auto Black Market
CHICAGO.—(INS)—It is seldom indeed that anybody can get a giggle out of an embezzlement—and there's nothing particularly hilarious about $13,000 going down the drain via that route.

However, Chicago became practically hysterical over the alleged snatch of that amount said to have been negotiated by a 16-year-old girl cashier during recent months. It's all because of her boyfriend who (also allegedly, of course) apparently profited from the deal. It seems that he bought a car with some of the contraband moolah. Furthermore, he paid something like two thousand fish more than the ceiling price for such vehicles, and came right out and admitted that he had handed the folding stuff under the table during the deal.

So Chicago, forgetting about the $13,000 embezzlement charge, is getting a giggle out of the situation involving the dealer who socked the swain for the extra coffee-and-cakes cash.

Old Story To OPA Boys

But it's no joke to the local OPA boys, to them, it's an old—even if usually much less publicized—story.

Now, make no mistake. The Chicago OPA office isn't happy about the embezzlement charges against the girl. As a matter of fact, they aren't particularly concerned with the situation at all.

But there's no denying that it has worked to their advantage. For months—years, if you must be technical—they have been well aware of the infractions of price ceiling regulations on used automobiles. But knowing about something and proving it were a couple of different things.

For one thing, they never could get the suckers to bear witness to their stupidity. They needed the cars so badly they were frightened and kept their mouths shut.

Time and again, according to Ross L. Dustin, district price economist for OPA, the boys have had almost enough evidence to take one of the used-car profiteers into court—but always the lads whose fingers were burned refused to co-operate.

This time, however, things were different. Since the lifting of some 13,000 singletons were involved, the boy realized he'd better come clean with what he'd done with his share of it. As a result, he signed a paper, not only admitting he'd paid more than the ceiling price for his car, but also naming the guy to whom he paid it.

Confronted with that testimony, the dealer got jittery and started singing a song that sounded beautiful to the OPA. It named names and gave addresses.

Operators Off Thin Ice

All in all, an entire ring of used-auto operators in the Chicago area now are no longer even on thin ice. They're hanging frantically on to the broken floes. The ring probably won't ever operate again—even though it undoubtedly will prove difficult to bring most of them into court and prove actual over-charges against them.

Actually, it goes beyond this one situation and single ring of auto operators. Simultaneously—and, they insist, coincidentally—the local OPA has organized a brand new staff of investigators who are concentrating on the car over-charge situation.

Knowing that, many of the boys who have been picking up extra change under the table for years are inclined to play it straight across the boards, at least for the time being.

Freakish Outgrowth

All of which is a freakish outgrowth of a case involving alleged embezzlement of a lot of cash in a grocery store—not to mention being entirely different from the type of situation normally confronting the local OPA office.

For instance: "Three months or so ago," Dustin recalled ruefully, "a local hood (Chicago-ese for punk or racketeer) bought a car for $900 down in Peoria. He brought it here and sold it to a war veteran for $2,300. The difference represented the price violation—but the vet had to have the car, so he wouldn't sign any charges against the dealer. That happened all the time."

But this time, because of an embezzlement, things are somewhat different. True, the story involves a girl and a boy and a grocery store's cash register, but—

You might be able to buy a used car here at ceiling prices now . . .

Decontrol Board Will Study Dairy Price Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(INS)—A spokesman for the price decontrol board said today that board members would meet tomorrow to study the dairy price situation.

If the three members decided that dairy prices have risen unreasonably since August 20, they may order the restoration of ceilings on milk, butter and other dairy items.

In deciding August 20 to allow dairy products to remain free of control, the board warned that it would watch for any upward trend in dairy prices and reimpose ceilings if prices rose unreasonably.

Since that time, the board has collected data on dairy prices and this information tomorrow will be placed before the board members—Roy L. Thompson, Daniel W. Bell, and George H. Mead.

Meanwhile, OPA remained mum on dairy prices which Price Administrator Paul Porter has declared he wants back under price control.

'White' Bread To Come Back Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Government regulations requiring millers and bakers to turn out darker flour and bread passed out of existence Sunday, but officials said it would be about two weeks before housewives can purchase their customary "white" bread.

The revision also means more grain for brewers and distillers and hence more beer and liquor.

The 10 per cent cut in the size of bread loaves will remain in effect.

Two Groups Join To Study Hamlet

Members of the Poetry club will meet with the participants of the Great Books forum in the Public Library's assembly room this evening for a study of Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

The panel discussion will be the fourth in a series of six now being sponsored by the library. Discussion, leader for the large group is Abraham Krash, graduate student at the University of Chicago where the Great Books study program was developed.

Army Dischargee Given Surprise

Harry Moon, of 474 Neshannock avenue, was pleasantly surprised on Saturday evening, when 28 members of the Young Peoples society of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, gathered in his home, to welcome him back, following his discharge from the army.

Harry, who arrived in this city, Wednesday, from Camp Polk, La., was taken completely by surprise, when he entered his home Saturday evening, to find the large group of young people there, ready to make his return to the city a happy one.

During the evening hours, the group entered into numerous games with social chat also being a part of the evening's diversion.

At a late hour, refreshments were served to the group by the hostess of the evening, Mrs. Ellen Gwin and Miss Mary Haybarger.

Battle Develops Over Trieste In Peace Session

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 3.—Yugoslavia "accused the Italian delegation at the Paris peace conference today of using "fraudulent tactics" in seeking control of Trieste.

Yugoslavia at the same time assailed the council of foreign ministers for suggesting a frontier for the proposed free territory of Trieste which "coincides nowhere with the line which divides the Yugoslav and Italian majorities."

Rips "French Line"
Belgrade's criticism of suggested solutions to the Trieste problem also ripped into the so-called "French line," which was designed to leave an equal number of Italians in Yugoslavia, and an equal number of Yugoslavs in Italy.

A Yugoslav spokesman said Italian demands in Venezia Giulia constitute "imperialistic aggression." He said the Italian delegation seeks to "distract attention from internal problems by fanning the flames of nationalist feeling."

Opens Bitter Battle
A Yugoslav spokesman opened up what promised to be a bitter battle for jurisdiction over the key Adriatic port by attacking the personal integrity of Ivanoe Bonomi, former premier of Italy.

Bonomi had asked the Italian political and territorial commission to extend the free territory of Trieste southward along the Istrian coast to include Italian-populated town to which localities could not be left to Italy.

The U. S. succeeded in the Balkan economic commission, meanwhile, in winning postponement of discussion of Romania's protest against restoring alien properties in North Transylvania, which was occupied by Hungary during most of World War II.

Yugoslavia's attack against Italy charged that the Rome government "falsified statistics" in regard to Trieste.

New Yorkers Feel Full Impact Today Of Trucking Strike

Largest City In Nation Crippled By Strike Of 25,000 Truck Drivers

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Many food trucks were tied up today as the full impact of a strike of 25,000 truck drivers hit the nation's largest city, metropolitan New York. Chiefly affected were the trucks of chain stores used to transport food. At one large warehouse 119 trucks were idle as drivers walked off the job chanting:

"No contract, no work."
At warehouses of other big chains, such as the A. & P., drivers said they were willing to move perishables, but refused to take out trucks which they contended included non-perishable items.

John Strong, president of the striking union declared that 100,000 men were idle and that 95 per cent of the city's trucking was tied up as the result of what he called "a lockout" by employers.

Arthur G. McKeever, president of the Motor Carriers Association, an employers group, estimated 25,000 drivers were off the job and added:

"In substance, the stoppage is complete."

Garbo Wrapped In Silence Upon Return To States

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(INS)—"I cannot come out now. I shall see you later."

It was the deep, throaty voice of Greta Garbo, speaking today from behind her locked cabin door on the liner Gripsholm, which returned the actress from Gothenburg, Sweden, to the United States. That was at 9:30 a. m. One hour later the 1,395 passengers began to disembark and Miss Garbo emerged.

Wrapped in a great and typical silence, she saw the press hastily as she strode down the gangplank and departed for an unnamed destination with no further word.

Lillian and Dorothy Gish were more communicative on arrival. Abroad two months as talent scouts for the Theater Guild, they reported:

"We have found three character actors for three forthcoming plays by Eugene O'Neill. One is in Dublin, the other two in England."

Their names, however, were not divulged.

Also returning on the ship was Mrs. James Forrestal, wife of the secretary of the navy. Forrestal met her at the pier but had no comment for newsmen.

He reportedly struck Burns and fled in the truck.

School Term Opens In State

Million And Half Youngsters
Return To School Work
In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Sept. 3.—(INS)—The 1946-47 school term begins in Pennsylvania today for more than 1,500,000 students.

The department of public instruction foresaw a possible increase in enrollments by midyear if employment of youngsters slackened.

A spokesman reported approximately 50,000 "teen age" children held work permits for full-time jobs last year and about twice that number had permission to take part-time positions.

He predicted a decline in the number of youngsters quitting school for jobs, but a rise in applications for permission to work after school hours. All permits will be issued after school opens, he emphasized.

Youngsters, authorized to halt their education to earn a living, must return to classrooms if they quit or lose their jobs, it was explained. The majority of school-age workers were 17-year-olds, it was added.

The bureau of teacher education and certification reported a shortage of 3000 qualified instructors.

Fifteen hundred emergency certificates were issued to substitute teachers to meet the needs in some rural schools which opened last week, according to Dr. Henry Kinnower, director. An additional 1500 persons with some college training probably would be appointed to occupy other vacant teaching posts, he said.

BLAME BOYS FOR CROSS BURNING

ARDEN, Del., Sept. 3.—(INS)—State police today blamed two Waggish youngsters for the burning of a "Ku Klux Klan" cross which set off an indignant mass protest meeting in Arden.

The police said the boys got the idea from reading about the Klan in the newspapers. The pranksters were taken in custody.

Before the arrests, however, 500 Arden residents met and adopted a resolution calling on the state and federal government to stamp out intolerance.

The word "pagan" originally meant a "villager".

Health Talks By DR. W. A. WOMER City Health Superintendent

FATTENING FOODS

Fat people seem to have a hard time trying to learn what they should eat and what they should not.

They have a big appetite and everything tastes good especially the things which they should not eat.

Perhaps the best thing for an overly fat person to do is to have a medical examination first.

If everything is found to be in good condition except the diet, then the campaign should begin.

A study of the various foods should be made to learn of their values in calories.

A reduction in the number of calories eaten will usually cause a loss of weight.

This study will usually show that the fats in the food should be reduced.

Fried foods, pie, butter, mayonnaise and other foods with lard, butter or oil in them should be cut out.

The doctor will explain about the amounts of protein and starch which should be eaten.

It is not the potato which makes people fat. It is the grease in which they are fried or the butter which is mixed in them which causes the trouble.

Churches Of City Hold Final Union Service Indoors

Large Audience Turns Out To Hear
Rev. Russell J. Humbert Of Youngstown Speak

Annual summer series of outdoor services of the churches of New Castle and Lawrence County, representing the New Castle Ministerial Association, came to a close Sunday evening, with the final service of the summer of 1946, being held in the First Christian church auditorium, instead of on the church lawn, which has been the custom throughout the summer months.

Rev. Russell J. Humbert, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, Youngstown, O., delivered the concluding address of the year for the Union service.

Rev. Humbert, in a scholarly manner, spoke to the large audience on "The Kind of a Church We Need Today" pointing out several aspects of the present age in which we are living.

"The days ahead may lead each of us to deeper devotion," spoke Rev. Humbert. "We are living in a day of materialism and we must revamp our position. Not only are we living in a day of materialism, but a day of revolution, but God will not let us down."

"Finally," cautioned the speaker, "we are living in a day of intellectualism, and we need a message of centrality if we are too advance. We need a ministry that contains convictions, we need a church in this dispensation and church is the church of the living God."

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the host church, introduced Rev. Humbert, but before he did, he thanked everyone who had a part in making the 1946 union services of the city such an outstanding success. He gave much of the credit of the success of the services to the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union, which was joint sponsor with the Ministerial Association in the series.

Sunday evening's service was directed by Albert B. Street, with James A. Bowman directing the music. Mrs. Kathryn Nesbitt Allen presided at the organ. Special music was presented by members of the Melody Sextet.

Plans are under way to continue the union services in 1947.

Rev. Samuel Kerr To Speak Tonight

Rev. Samuel Kerr, missionary to India, will be the speaker, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Peoples Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Sampson street.

Rev. Kerr, who is making a tour of the Alliance churches of western Pennsylvania, will not only speak, but will show slide pictures of the work being done in that land.

The returned missionary will also be heard in the New Wilmington Alliance church, Wednesday evening, and in the Castlewood church, Thursday evening.

WEDDING INFORMATION
To settle a dispute, please tell me if guests at a church wedding should stand or remain seated. I think they should stand during the ceremony only.

Answer: Upon their arrival at the church, guests are shown to the proper pews by the ushers. They are seated and remain seated until the organist plays "The Wedding March" and the bride procession starts up the aisle. Then the guests should rise and remain standing during the entire ceremony and the recessional, except at those ceremonies requiring them to kneel. Even then, they should stand for the processional and the recessional. Guests should not leave their pews until the parents of the bride and groom, followed by the guests "within the ribbons" have been escorted to the door.

Question: Please give me the details of the ring-giving in the wedding ceremony.

Answer: At the point where the ring is introduced, the best man places it to the bridegroom, who places it on the bride's finger. (If there is a ring-bearer the ring is presented on its satin pillow.) The bride should previously have transferred her engagement ring to her right hand or have left it at home.

The bride hands her bouquet to her maid-of-honor. The bride should either remove her glove or push back the ripped third finger on the left hand. After the ring has been placed, she may put on her glove or pull down the finger, as the case may be.

Question: Is it necessary for the bride's mother to entertain for her future daughter-in-law? If so, in what manner should it be done?

Answer: Indeed, the mother of the bridegroom may and frequently does entertain for the bride. This may be a tea-luncheon, dinner or evening party—anything but a shower, which should be given by someone outside of both families.

(2) The immediate family of the groom (especially the younger members) should be invited to pre-nuptial parties given in honor of the bride.

To dream of cucumbers meant falling in love immediately, according to an early superstition associating cucumbers with Venus.

U. N. Council To Reconvene Today

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 3.—(INS)—The United States is expected to support the right of the Soviet Ukraine to have its charges against Greece aired when the United Nations Security Council reconvenes at 3 p. m. Friday.

Although the United Kingdom and Netherlands have opposed using the council for a "political sounding board," the American delegation was believed ready to defend the premise that free exchange of information is more important.

Ukraine Foreign Minister D. Z. Manulsky claims he has "two suitcases" of evidence ready to present against Greece but he wants to submit it orally.

The council refused to seat him Friday during procedural discussion over adopting the agenda. He has not yet committed the Ukraine to comply with the request of the United Kingdom and Netherlands for a better-documented and more-carefully-worded complaint.

Vets Can Re-Enlist In Former Grades With Pay Increase

Former G.I.s Will Benefit Under Terms Of Recent Bill Passed By Congress

Discharged Army veterans may still re-enlist in their former grades, plus a raise in pay, providing they served sufficient time in their MOS in accordance with War Department Pamphlet 12-16.

Men who were discharged under the old pay scale may return in their former rank and receive the benefits of the new pay bill passed by Congress which provides for raises from increases of 20 per cent to 50 per cent for enlisted personnel.

Extra pay allowances for special duties are not affected by the bill. Soldiers continue to receive 20 per cent above base pay for overseas service, and 50 per cent additional pay for flying duty. Paratroopers also get $50 a month extra. Base pay is increased five per cent for each three years of service, thus making retirement pay higher too.

Further details may be obtained at the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station, second floor, Post Office Building.

FOUR STAR SHOW
NEW YORK.—(INS)—The most appreciated of 100 performances that Ben Drehan's USO-Camp Shows unit, "Belles and Bedlam," gave to 25,000 overseas G.I.s, was held aboard a tiny Coast Guard weather ship off the coast of Greenland.

The whole unit unpacked gear and played for the lonely men. "They were all youngsters," said the graying comic. "Never again will I play to an audience that thrilled me as much as that little group did."

The shooting took place in the Las Vegas home where Mrs. Waters was employed as a nurse.

Mrs. Waters allegedly killed Waters yesterday with a single shot from a pocket-size pistol as he knelt on the floor with their 16-month-old son, Frank Jr.

The bullet pierced Waters' heart, killing him instantly, after grazing the infant's right knee and leaving powder burns on the child's face and hands that required hospital attention.

Mrs. Waters was quoted by Police Chief George Thompson as saying: "I shot him because I was afraid he might injure the baby."

Lawrence Indies Hold Two Game Edge In Series

Upset Universals Twice 4-3, 9-6 In Week-End Battles

Indies Need But One More Win To Take City Championship, Lead 3 To 1

OVER 4,000 SEE GAME ON MONDAY

Before over 4,000 fans at Washington field, the largest crowd to see a baseball game in this city in years, the Lawrence Indies Monday defeated the Universals 9 to 6 to gain a two-game edge in the current series for the city baseball loop championship, and need but one more victory to nail the flag to the Mahoning avenue and Ordway street flagpole. The series will be resumed Wednesday evening at the E. & A. field at 6 o'clock.

The Indies edged the Pottery Sunday at the E. & A. field, in a fine game, 4 to 3, before over 3,000 fans, with young Michalok, just back from the Appalachian league, taking the hill and giving the Pottery but three hits, as he fanned three and walked seven men. The veteran "Rock" Houston, opposed the Indies and was found for eight hits, John Magnusak being the batting star with a triple that started the winning run in the sixth inning.

Russ Pitches Superbly

Big John Russu had the hurling assignment for the Indies Monday and although found for eight hits kept them scattered. He fanned four and walked but one. Leading the Indies hitting attack yesterday were Koster, Russu and John Magnusak with extra-base hits while Acting Manager Mickey Huff was the star-kicker for the Pottery with a homer and double.

The Indies trailed three to one in the fourth yesterday but battled in four runs in the big inning to take a momentary lead, the Universals coming back in their half of the fourth with a two-run attack to make it 5 to 4. Two more Indies made it in the seventh and three made it in the ninth put the game on ice. The Universals battled in one in the ninth but that was all.

Manager Zidow Elated

Manager George "Boss" Zidow of the Indies was a happy man today as he saw his Indies in front by three games to one, and needing but one more to grab the championship. "I will pitch young Michalok Wednesday, that's for sure," said Zidow.

The Indies with their backs to the wall, will probably counter with Paul Morrison or Peck Houston. Acting Manager Huff was downhearted today. "We just can't catch up to get started in this series, but look out Wednesday," was his parting shot.

Richard Percie Has Hole-In-One At Castle Hills

Young Seaman Who Saw Bill Nunn Make Two Of His Famous Shots, Gets Thrill

Having watched Bill Nunn, the local golfing veteran, make two of his holes-in-one at the Castle Hills course, on the No. 2 hole, young Richard Percie, a merchant marine seaman of Bessemer, home on leave, stepped up to the No. 11 tee-off on the back nine Labor day afternoon and sunk a sensational hole-in-one, using a No. 6 iron.

To say that Percie and his partners were excited would put it mildly. It was a perfect shot with the No. 6 iron, the ball lighting on the green and trickling into the cup.

Getting holes-in-one are becoming common at the course, said Manager Larry Gramling today. This is the third hole-in-one at the course this season. Nunn getting his on the No. 2 hole and an Ohio golfer on the No. 7 hole.

Indianapolis Winner Killed

George Robson, Who Won At Fame At Indianapolis Memorial Day, Killed

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 3.—(INS)—The daring, spectacular driver that brought fame to Robson as America's auto racing king was ended today by his death.

The 37-year-old Robson, who won the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic this year, was killed yesterday in a crash of cars during the running of a 100-mile national championship dirt track race at Atlanta's Lakewood oval.

Also killed in the crash was George Barringer, San Antonio, Tex., driver, whose car collided with Robson's racer, and four other cars piled into the wreckage hidden by a cloud of dust.

Saints Can Take Church Loop Toga

Those miraculous St. Vitus golfers can clinch the church league softball championship tonight, if they defeat the Central Presbyterian in their game at the Scotland Lane field beginning at 6:15.

The Saints have two more games to play, the nearest team having dropped two games. Ft. Augustine is slated to take the mound for the Saints, and the Presbyterians, although out of the running for loop honors, are expected to throw everything at the league-pacers to halt their bid for the title.

In a recent game the Saints had their win streak snapped at 19 when the Weinschenk "pick-ups" topped them, 13-10. However, in league play their record still stands.

Church Softball Ending Tonight

Tonight will see the end of the New Castle church softball loop with the St. Vitus team headed for the title, providing they win this evening. The Saints won the first-half title. They are undefeated in league play this season.

The card for the closing games tonight—First Baptist vs Epworth at Lehigh; Third U. P. vs Second Baptist at Ryantown; St. Vitus vs Central Presbyterians at Scotland Lane; Second U. P. vs Croton at Hickory Heights; First U. P. idle.

RUSSELL BAXTER, local middleweight, who has lost only three of several score fights, intends to resume training soon and when he next steps through the ropes he will not be under the management of George Sheppard of New York, having made arrangements, he told.

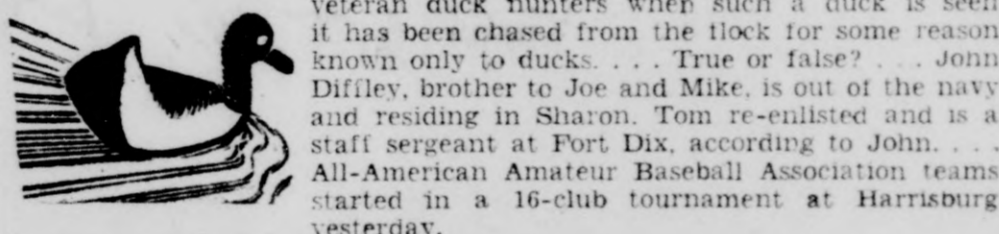

Here and There, to purchase his contract from Sheppard. He was weighed in for 145 pounds and had to go into a "hot room" to shed the extra poundage which left him weak when he answered the bell. According to those who witnessed the fight, he was going strong toward the end of the 10 rounds. In his abbreviated bout with Mike Berskovich, Russell was leading on points by a fair margin when he backed to the ropes. He dropped his left and a right to the chin sent him down. Although he got up several times the right to the law was the finisher. Commenting on that fight, Russ said: "I need a little more knowledge as to what to do on the ropes and I'm going to profit by what happened." Relative to the Doyle vs. Home fight, he remarked: "If I had been strong going in with Mickey, I would have defeated him with punches to spare. He didn't puff or open my eyes like he did Horne's. Give me a couple of weeks time and a little more tutoring and I'll beat, not only Doyle, but also Berskovich and Horne." Russ is only 22 years of age, makes 160 pounds easily and has good habits. He always draws wherever he fights because fans realize that Baxter can punch, box and does not know what the word quit means. At present, he's paying match-makers in various cities and will box any legitimate middleweight they wish him to fight.

While in Quebec in quest of fish with Herm Steinbrink and George Harper, Johnny Marzina, known to tremors as "Greenie" and their Indian guide got in to their canoe. When Harper extended a fishing rod to Johnny he leaned too far toward the pole and the canoe upset throwing both the Indian and he into the "dunk". Fortunately, they were close to shore and excepting for a ducking no harm resulted. Clarence Blair of Akron and Lou King of Rochester, will box the main amateur three-rounder September 9, in the Arena with Jim Gillespie of Akron opposed to Lester Leisure in the semi-final.

Gene Burton, hard-punching Gotham lightweight will box Dorsey Lay, Philadelphia mauler, at Forbes field, Wednesday night, or on the same night that Cliff Beckett battles Mike Berskovich in Youngstown.

Hunting licenses for the 1946 season are now on sale. The 1945 permits expired several days ago. "Won't be long until the duck hunters will be occupying blinds. According to an expert on worms one can dry angleworms until they are only 40 percent water and still revive them, but they die if they become only one-fifth of one percent drier than 46 percent. Slim Ransom, coach at Geneva, handed out grid equipment Saturday. Ray Berres has resigned as manager of the Piedmont League Richmond Colts. First Baseman Mike Schlemmer is running the team. Report says that railroad men use fuses before they enter a certain booth in Ohio to receive orders because copperheads have been found in the booth. They're not nice playmates, say the least. One of the spots missed nowadays, locally, is weight-lighting. Years ago Joe George was the city's strong man. When Claude Patton was running he could do the century in 10, if need be, told Here & There.

By LAWTON CARVER (International News Service Sports Editor) LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(INS)—A yodel comes to Hollywood by accident looking for celebrities and Lane, Second U. P. vs Croton at Hickory Heights; First U. P. idle.

Mysterious John will be remembered as the man who virtually made golf over into a garden-planting party. He played one day in an impromptu competition using a rake, shovel and baseball bat, scored so well that some of the nation's most devout followers of the game began to discuss the advisability of switching from the usual golfing canes to garden tools.

He also knocked sparrows off wires with a drive, reputedly broke three course records in as many days in different cities.

Is Head Pro But he's no longer literally killing birds on tree tops and going through other such antics. He is the head pro at the California Country club in the heart of the movie colony, the club where the Golden State Open will be played this week. Mysterious John has settled down in a neat little joint from whose broad verandas you see old baldy, a snow-capped peak in one direction, the Pacific ocean in another, all Los Angeles sprawled out when you look ahead.

The club is on the top of a high hill or small mountain. I'm not sure just how high, but I'm sure it's a mountain, a native laughs and says it's only a hill. When I call it a hill somebody says it's one of the highest peaks in America. Enroute to the top of the mountain or hill looking for my old friend Montague, I had to stop in the Brown Derby for lunch. You've heard of that. Yodels must be seen there.

On the way in, I saw people with necks craned expectantly and I joined them. When I asked what they were looking at a lady turned and said, "Nothing yet." A man added that a celebrity was expected. I asked who and they said they didn't know.

When I knocked off for lunch and left the crowd everybody still was standing there outside of a driveway, bent over at the waist, eyes popping with intensity. And they didn't even know what they were looking for.

On the corner, though, stood The Angel, to whom no one paid the slightest heed, although he is the shaven-headed, ponderous current ruler of a wrestling championship. All wrestlers are champions. Next to the wall in front of a haberdashery stood a young, rather sleek-looking guy with long hair.

I asked Freddie Corcoran, the pro golf impresario, who that could be. Certainly a celebrity, and certainly Corcoran, an old hand in Hollywood would know. He said: "I don't know for sure. It's either Tarzan or the ape."

Penn State will play five of its nine football games away from home this fall.

Sylvan Heights Swamps Visitors

Baldoc Hills Golfers No Match For Locals Who Score Easy Triumph Sunday

In spite of their star-studded team, the Baldoc Hills Country club, headed by Mike and Andy Svedko, for years the outstanding amateur golfers in the Pittsburgh district, national champions and a number of other good golfers, failed to provide much competition for the Sylvan Heights team at Sylvan Heights Sunday, the locals winning easily by a score of 49½ to 10½.

Ted Lach sparked the locals with a three-under-par round of 69 which Johnny Paszkowski, former West Penn Public Links champ, could not match, while Timmy Lombardo equaled Andy Svedko's par round of 72, the best scores of the day.

SALTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 3.—(INS)—A three-way race for the left-halback spot on the Pitt Panthers developed today with the return of Jack Smolic to action. The other two candidates are Bobby (General) Lee, fast moving New Castle Negro, and Fred Sherman, fleet footed 160-pounder of Hanover township.

Bill Young, a freshman back from Kittanning, was sent to the Panthers. He was called into service. Smolic has been on the sidelines with a leg infection.

Hundreds Shoot Here Labor Day

Hundreds of persons participated in Labor day shooting events and a corn at the Lawrence County Sportsman's association farm at Harbor. There was some good trap shooting, several having broken 24 of 25 clay pigeons, while members of the New Castle Revolver club also performed nicely with the pistol. The corn was held in the evening. According to Chairman Andrew Dodds, eight cases of shells were fired by the trapshooters.

In their last meeting, Adragna, an ex-serviceman of Carnegie, was a heavy favorite but Zivic turned the tables and handed him a lacing. Three other bouts complete the card.

Englert High In Revolver Shoot

Hayes Englert, Oil City Game Protector, Shoots 849 Aggregate Labor Day

Hayes Englert, game protector for this district from Oil City, Pa., was high man with an aggregate 849 score out of a possible 900 at the Labor day shoot held at the Sportsman farm by the New Castle Revolver club, with William McKee, local club secretary, second high with a total of 834. Quite a number took part in the shoot and enjoyed a corn and Weiner roast. Tonight the New Castle Revolver club will have a practice shoot at the Cathedral range at 8 o'clock, it was announced.

High Gridders Resume Drills

Red And Black Reporting To Stadium This Afternoon For Final Week Of Work

New Castle's Red Hurricanes, back from 10 days of training at the Y. M. C. A. camp along the banks of the Slippery Rock, will enter into their final week of preparation for the 1946 season today as they resume drills on the greensward of Taggart stadium.

Head Coach P. H. Bridenbaugh has told the squad to report for practice at 3 p. m. today. "The Fox" and his aides will begin their final polishing of the team with the big opener with Erie East waiting for the "Canes Friday night under the lights."

Frying off the lid with the Erie team, the locals will wade through one of the most ambitious cards ever attempted by a New Castle squad. Following East will come Butler, Youngstown East, Sharon, Altoona, Farrell, Erie Academy, Clairton, Aliquippa and Warren. O. All these contests, but the Sharon, Butler and Warren games will be home tussles at Taggart field. The schedule includes battles with six Double A schools, and it will be slam-bang without a letup for the Red and Black for ten weeks running.

Run on Tickets

Eager fans have launched the biggest demand for pastebords in the history of the city, and so great was the clamor for reserve seats that J. H. Earl McKenzie, ticket manager, opened up two other sections, five and six to satisfy the fans. With the pall of the war years lifted, and sports once more on the upswing, record crowds are expected to turn out for this season's classic home attractions. Football is still the king of spectator sports and it will probably require a crowd-bar and a letter from President Truman to gain entrance to the stadium this autumn just about kick-off time.

Wampum Champs, West Side Nine Battle Tonight

Baseball fans will be treated to a top-drawer battle tonight when the Wampum Legion, winners of the County league honors, clash with the West Side Tigers at the Lee avenue field.

Manager "Bud" Wardman of the county champs is expected to use his mound ace, Frank Powell, in the game and Len Gilbert will counter with either "Scotty" Morrison or Wayne Carpenter.

This is the first time this season the Legion has met a City league club and Thursday night the Tigers will go to Wampum for a return match with the champs.

Boston Red Sox Need But Seven More Victories

Bosox Defeat Yanks Twice Sunday, Cards Increase Lead Over Dodgers

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Any combination of seven Boston victories or New York losses now will clinch the pennant for the Red Sox, who are in front by 15½ games as a result of their two triumphs over the second-place Yankees yesterday.

Ferriss won the opener, 3 to 2, while Mickey Harris held the Yanks to four hits in the nightcap and beat them 3 to 1.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead over Brooklyn to 2½ games by beating Cincinnati twice, 6 to 4 and 8 to 7, while the Dodgers were gaining no better than an even break in a twin bill with the Phillies.

Rube Melton hurled Brooklyn to a 5 to 2 win in the opener, but Oscar Judd subdued the Dodgers in the nightcap, 3 to 2. Del Rains drove in the winning run in the second game.

Pirates Cubs Split

Rookie Edson Bahr pitched Pittsburgh to a 4 to 1 triumph over Chicago, but the Cubs won the second game, 7 to 3.

For the first time in the majors, the Cooper brothers faced each other as opposing players in the first game of a twin bill between New York and Boston. Walker, of the Giants, spoiled a shutout for his brother with a timely double as Mort beat New York 6 to 2. In the nightcap, the Giants scored all their runs in the seventh inning in trouncing the Braves 8 to 3.

Hank Greenberg's homer gave Detroit a 2 to 1 win over Chicago, but the White Sox annexed the nightcap 6 to 2.

Old Bobo the Hobo Newsum, enjoying a great comeback with Washington, racked up his 13th win of the season in beating the Athletics 5 to 2. The A's took the nightcap 7 to 1 behind Jesse Flores.

The St. Louis Browns exploded with an eight-run rally in the eighth to down Cleveland 9 to 2. In the nightcap the teams battled 13 innings to a 2 to 2 tie before darkness halted the contest.

Hawaiian Swims Catalina Channel

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(INS)—A 48-year-old blind Hawaiian today became the fourth person in history to swim the treacherous 22-mile channel between Catalina Island and the California mainland.

Beane (King) Nawahi accomplished the feat yesterday after battling winds and tide or 23 hours and 11 minutes.

The husky Hawaiian literally swam "by ear." Nawahi plunged into the sea from Catalina at 9 p. m. Sunday and was guided by a bell on the pilot boat which accompanied him.

He swam steadily through the night and early Monday, but the tide changed and heavy winds slowed his progress near the end of the tortuous swim.

Nat Holman, who is Mr. Baskett himself, leading for Mexico to teach Mexican coaches finer points of the cage game.

Nick Kerbawy relays that Michigan State's football squad has dozen married men in the ranks.

Army Morale Reported Good

Under Secretary Of War
Says U. S. Now Has Strong Army And Its
Getting Better

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 3.—(INS)—Kenneth C. Royal, under-secretary of war, was authority today for the statement that the United States now has a strong army and will have a better one within a few months.

Royal, addressing a dinner gathering of the Army and Navy union's 58th annual encampment recently declared the morale of the army is good.

He said that as new enlistees or draftees are trained, the effectiveness of the army will increase. Royal said:

"To accomplish this program we will have to get 175,000 men through Selective Service before next July 1. We will be able to continue our present discharge plan without modification."

Royal added that the reserves program is in "excellent shape" throughout the country.

He stressed the importance of a strong army as an argument for continued peace. Royal explained:

"Our chances for peace are awfully good if we keep a strong army."

"We are far less apt to be attacked if we can hit back. If we are strong, there may be efforts to see how much pushing around we will take, but they will stop when we demonstrate that we mean business."

Royal said atomic research is continuing "splendidly," and that the military liaison on the civil control board is sufficient to protect the army's interest. He added:

"Our industries can mobilize far more rapidly now than they could at the start of World War II."

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

MARIE McDONALD HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Super-shapely Marie McDonald is the subject of today's interrogation. The reason is her recently announced determination to shed the title of "The Body," anathema to a beauty bent on pursuing the higher dramatic arts despite her superb natural endowments.

Marie was sitting at her dressing table on the set of M-G-M's "Life's For the Loving" powdering her pert little nose when your reporter arrived.

"Marie you'll recall a month or so ago we had a conversation in which I pledged I would no longer refer to you as 'The Body,' at least not in so many words."

"That is correct," Marie replied. Your reporter proceeded:

"At that time, you'll recall you were wearing a white bathing suit."

"That is correct," said Marie.

"You will recall that a week or so later we had another conversation."

"Yes, sir," said Marie.

"During this conversation you also were wearing a bathing suit."

"Yes, sir," said Marie.

"You'll recall we had another conversation shortly thereafter during which you were wearing some sort of a brief suit with full length net stockings."

"That's right," said Marie, "but I don't see where all this is leading."

"You'll see," said reporter. "I'm merely trying to arrive at a logical conclusion, because I notice that at the moment you are wearing some sort of a Grecian costume with the same sort of full length stockings."

"That's right," said Marie. "but these are all costumes for the picture. I have nothing to do with selecting them."

"That is correct," your reporter said, "but when the cash customers see you in them do you think they're going to forget that you are—well, rather well figured?"

"Why shouldn't they?" Marie replied.

"I don't know," said your reporter, "but I doubt very much whether the men in the audience will be looking at you and thinking of Kiawatha."

Marie's eyes twinkled as she said: "Do I know him?"

"No," said your reporter, "I was just trying to concentrate on a good book."

"I don't see where this is getting us," said Marie.

"Neither do I," admitted your reporter, "I was just exploring the problem which must be faced in your dramatic career."

Just then one of M-G-M's talented young men, Bill Lyon, interposed:

"Maybe you'll be satisfied with the costume she'll be wearing next week. She'll be well covered."

"That's fine," said your reporter. "Yes, said Bill, 'she'll be wearing a nightgown.'"

Four Goats In Bikini Bomb Test Are Recovering

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Four goats that served as guinea pigs in the June 30 atom bomb test at Bikini were reported today as having recovered satisfactorily.

The announcement was made by Dr. Austin M. Brues, medical director of the Argonne National Laboratory's Biological Division on the University of Chicago campus where the goats have been under observation for a month.

Dr. Brues said the goats are in excellent health and had "convalesced nicely." He added the goats have become pets of the laboratory workers who now don't want to turn them over to their owners, the Navy.

TREAT BARLEY SEED TO CONTROL DISEASE

Barley seed not known to be completely free of loose and covered smut, and stripe should be treated to prevent a recurrence of heavy attacks of these diseases as happened this summer.

New Improved Ceresan is recommended, at the rate of one-half ounce per bushel. Seed should be treated at least three days before planting, and longer for more effective control. Gravity treaters or other kinds of machines may be used.

Barley is less winter hardy than wheat, and winter killing may be expected from time to time. Barley also requires a more fertile soil than does wheat, as well as earlier planting.

PLAN FOR PAPER DRIVE

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 3.—The community service committee of the local Kiwanis club has completed plans for a paper collection to be made on September 9.

Primroses should be set out this month to get well established before winter.
